AVCJ

A pilot program under which Chinese securities companies participate in private equity investment may be approved for full implementation. Huang Wenyuan, director of the department of institutional investors at the China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC), said the move was under consideration, China Daily reported.

Read Full Article